RurAL CAP Foundation Guidelines

Fiscal Year 2021

The RurAL CAP Foundation funds a limited number of small grants for educational and charitable purposes that focus on low-income people and rural communities. Grants are made in the amount of $500 to $25,000. Traditionally, the average grant award has been between $2,500 and $10,000. On a case by case basis, larger award amount can be considered. Eligible applications are considered from 501(c)(3) nonprofit and governmental organizations in rural Alaska which do not have an open grant, and which have not received a grant from the Foundation in the prior 12 months.

The Foundation's major interests are to:

- Provide support to low-income people to expand their capabilities through training and educational opportunities;
- Provide opportunities for community representatives to participate in forums, workshops, and conferences that protect and enhance cultural traditions and subsistence practices;
- Strengthen the skills and capacity of local leadership in rural communities; and
- Promote healthy people, sustainable communities and vibrant cultures.

For a limited time the Foundation will also be aiding rural communities in the prevention and recovery of the COVID-19 virus.

Examples of the Types of Grants Awarded

- Projects that encourage the sharing of knowledge and engage volunteers and community members;
- Events where community members learn skills for life, such as a youth music camp or Elders teaching youth how to subsistence hunt or fish;
- Projects that have long-term impacts on a community, such as building a garden or recycling center; and
- Events that build the capacity of local government, such as workshops on project design and proposal writing. (Foundation funds are often awarded for supplies and transportation costs; funds are typically not awarded to pay stipends to people who might otherwise volunteer or equipment that benefits only a few.)
- The Foundation generally doesn't fund:
Employee salaries, individual scholarships, overhead or indirect, paying wages for work normally done by volunteers (e.g. picking up trash), junk food or soda pop.
